GERMANY WILL REMAIN FIRM

SOCIALISTS PLEDGE GOVERNMENT SUPPORT

Germans Plan To Play a Passive Role, Awaiting Next Move of the Allies.

Berlin, March 8.—Following a two- hour session by the German cabinet, Monday night, it was announced today that the government will remain firm in its opposition to the Paris indemnity decisions of the allies.

The Socialists at Cologne have pledged their support to the government and the people of Dusseldorf—which has been occupied by the allies—sent a message asking the government to continue its defiance of the allies' demands. For a time, Germany will play a passive role, awaiting the next move of the allies. Whether or not there will be any cabinet changes, will not be revealed until Foreign Minister Simons reports to the Reichstag, probably Thursday.

The cabinet has received information from the Ruhr district that Belgian and French troops were on the move hours before Dr. Simons' message was received here from London, announcing that the allies were putting their penalties into effect.

No Official Notice.

Washington, March 8.—The United States has received no official notification from the allies of the action taken in occupying German territory, it was announced at the state department today. Thus far, this government has had to depend upon press despatches and reports from diplomatic officers as to the allies' purpose in the occupation of German territory.

BAN TAKEN OFF BEER WITH KICK

Beer May Be Prescribed for Medicinal Purposes.

RULING GIVEN UNDER THE VOLSTEAD LAW

Change in Rules Is Opposed by Dry Leaders—Some Further Changes Expected.

Washington, March 8.—The prohibition "lid" was removed, today, on "beer with a kick," for medicinal purposes. The department of justice ruled that physicians are authorized under the Volstead law to prescribe beer, when, in their judgment, it will prove beneficial. The beer ruling was drafted before the new administration came into office and bears the signature of A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney general.

Beer now takes a status equal to that of wine as a curative agent legally listed by the government and physicians will be allowed wide latitude by directing its use by patients, when such use will aid recovery in cases of illness or convalescence.

The beer decision is the climax of a warm conflict of a warm conflict between some of the government's legal minds, Prohibition Commissioner Kramer opposed such a ruling, on the ground it would mean general loosening up of the rigid rules governing the breweries and the sale of their products.

Officials now are considering amendments to existing rules, which will allow brewers to sell beer of about four per cent. alcoholic content, in order that an ample supply may be available to meet expected demands upon druggists for the liquid.

FIRST CABINET MEETING TODAY

President Meets with Secretaries at 11 O'Clock.

VICE PRESIDENT OCCUPIES A PLACE

Occupies Seat Opposite to That of President.

Executive Offices Are Jammed with Visitors Today—Colombian Treaty Is Subject of a Conference This Morning.

Washington, March 8.—A wide range of subjects, covering practically all the pressing international and domestic problems facing the government, was taken up, today, by President Harding with his cabinet in its first meeting. The session occupied more than two hours, most of which was spent in discussion.

The first meeting was devoted largely to getting organized and acquainted. The president sat at the head of the long table, Vice President Coolidge, at the foot, with the regular members ranging down the sides.

Each department head in turn presented to the chief executive the immediate problems that are facing his department, and there was a general discussion.

It is understood that the foreign situation came in for consideration, particularly the allied advance into Germany and the revolution that is sweeping Russia, but the discussion was of a general nature.

The major part of the discussion related to these departmental problems which every bureau chief is facing—matters of policy in carrying out the Republican campaign pledges of economy, elimination of waste, and the doing away with overlapping work. Secretary of Commerce Hoover has some pronounced ideas along this subject and it is understood that he expounded these at some length.

Secretary of State Hughes laid before the cabinet the status of the Panama-Costa Rican dispute over the international boundary and there was considerable discussion about Latin-American relations, generally.

Another cabinet meeting will be held, Friday of this week, it was announced at the White House. It is believed that by that time the German and Russian situations will have clarified sufficiently to permit more detailed consideration than was possible at today's meeting.

The regular cabinet day was fixed for Tuesday, of each week. If it is found necessary to hold meetings twice a week, Friday will be designated as the other day.

Immediately after the cabinet meeting broke up, the president received the corps of Washington correspondents. He was gratified by the spirit of cooperation shown in the first meeting with his aides and it was indicated that the conferences with departmental heads will be frequent.

Cabinet Meets.

Washington, March 8.—President Harding met with his cabinet for the first time, at 11 o'clock this morning.

Vice President Coolidge was present, an innovation. The vice president was given a seat at the end of the cabinet table, facing the president, with the members of the cabinet seated along the sides of the table.

The cabinet concluded its session shortly before 2 o'clock, this afternoon, after having been in session for well over two hours.

Day of Hard Work.

Washington, March 8.—President Harding faced a day of hard work, today. The president and Senator Lodge conferred for half an hour, early this morning. It is understood that the Colombian treaty was taken up.

The executive offices were jammed with visitors, shortly after 9 o'clock.

Patronage was apparently the president's difficult task, today, for

STATE INCOME TAX MEASURE

Introduced in Ohio House by Representative Gordon.

ONE-PER-CENT. TAX ON MINOR INCOMES

Two-Per-Cent. Tax on All Incomes Above $4,000 Provided in Bill—Some Exemptions.

Columbus, March 8.—A state income tax bill, supported by friends of the uniform rule of taxation, has been introduced in the house by Representative Gordon, Logan county. The measure provides for a one-per-cent tax on all incomes up to $4,000, and two per cent in excess of that amount. Single men would be allowed a $500 exemption on their incomes and married men, $1,000, plus $200 for each child. Of the tax thus raised, seventy-five per cent. would go to the municipality, or township, in which the taxpayer resides, and the other twenty-five per cent., to the state treasury. In order to avoid double taxation, incomes from real estate would be exempted, up to the amount of all general property taxes.

The governor's citizens' taxation committee is expected to make its report to Governor Davis, today. Among other recommendations, the committee is expected to urge enactment of an income-tax measure after the state constitution has been amended so as to break the uniform rule of taxation.

Forest Measures.

Columbus, March 8.—Reforestration throughout Ohio on a big scale and protection of forests from fire, are sought in three bills introduced in the house by Representative Silver, Preble county. One measure provides for a state forestry department, forest preserves and fire prevention. Another authorizes counties, municipalities and townships to establish forests. A third measure appropriates $10,000 for a nursery to raise seedlings to be planted on public preserves, or sold at cost.

Because the Atwood bill providing for a fisherman's license was killed by being tabled in the house, Representative Emery, Defiance county, has introduced a similar measure. A bill permitting rural and village school districts to fund deficiencies and to levy taxes to remove them, has been introduced by Representative Green, Portage county.

Representative Frillman, Franklin county, offered a bill placing taxi-cabs for county blind relief outside the Smith-law limitations. At-

APPROXIMATE DISARMAMENT

Proffer of President Harding for World Peace.

INDICATES AMERICA MUST BE PREPARED

But Can Join Movement To Drop Excessive Armament.

President Harding Talks of Plans for Legislative Program and Bringing Federal Heads into Close Touch.

Washington, March 8.—"Approximate disarmament," will be the proffer of President Warren G. Harding for world peace.

The phrase was carefully chosen by the president as he stood upon the threshold of the main doorway of the White House, early this morning.

The president stressed the adjective, "approximate," with special emphasis, as, bareheaded and smiling, he faced the newspaper correspondent pressing him for a compliment on disarmament.

The inflection he bestowed upon it left no doubt as to the meaning.

What he said was brief and pointed, but in an instant he conjured up the American nation, unwilling to be disarmed or unprepared for defense, but willing to join with other nations in abolishing excessive armament.

Republican leaders of congress were still rolling away in well-polished limousines from the brilliantly illuminated portico, as the president frankly discussed the long conference he had with them since early evening.

There had been differences of opinion between the Republican leaders with whom he had conferred at dinner and afterwards. He made no attempt at concealment of the fact that Republican members of the senate finance committee and the house ways-and-means committee had differed as to whether tariff duties or domestic taxation should be revised first when the new congress convenes. But he intimated he was hopeful that an agreement would be reached after a careful canvass of the senate and house is made.

Wants Sentiment.

The president made it plain he did not desire the impression should go forth that it was his purpose to consult only a small group of men who are the recognized Republican leaders of congress.

He wanted to sound out the sentiment of the full Republican majority of congress to ascertain the views of other senators and congressmen as to what should be done to meet the grave domestic problems confronting the country.

"Tonight's conference was only a beginning," the president said, "a beginning in the rubbing of elbows between the executive and legislative branches of our government in a determined effort to solve the many problems we face.

"Tonight's discussion was pleasing and interesting," he continued. "It will lead, I am sure, to good results. It was not determined whether there should be an emergency tariff at the extra session of the new congress, or whether the question of revenue revision should be first taken up. There was a wide divergence of opinion as to that.

"Without committing ourselves to details, we started upon the formulation of a legislative program by which we hope there will be much progress made when the new congress is convened and which will lead to the fullest cooperation between the executive and congress.

First Steps.

"It is too early now to anticipate what the first steps will be when congress meets. We only discussed domestic problem tonight. Foreign questions were, by common assent, left to future discussion. There will be other conferences. It is my purpose to keep in close touch with congress and its members, as well as its leaders. We made a good start, tonight."

"Was there any proposal for one

PACKERS WILL CUT THE WAGES

Armour and Swift Companies Plan Action.

EIGHT-HOUR BASIC DAY IS TO BE ELIMINATED

Workers To Be Reduced Eight Cents an Hour.

Piece Workers To Be Reduced Twelve and One-Half Per Cent.—Strike in Packing Houses Is Now Probable.

Chicago, March 8.—Wages of employes of the two largest packing establishments in the United States—Armour & Company and Swift & Company—will be reduced effective March 14, according to official announcement made today. Workers who are paid by the hour will be asked to accept a cut of eight cents an hour, while those paid by piece—work rates will be reduced approximately twelve and one-half per cent.

The basic eight-hour day will be eliminated in the Armour and Swift plants.

Although Armour and Swift are the only packing concerns to make an announcement of contemplated wage cuts, it is understood that other packing concerns are preparing to take similar action.

The movement affects the plants of Swift and Armour throughout the entire country. In Chicago, alone, approximately 25,000 workers are concerned.

Strike Probable.

That the announcement of wage reductions will bring about a strike in the packing industry, was regarded as highly probable, today. Leaders of the packing-house employes' unions already have declared that they will not accept a reduction in wages.

A conference of employes will begin at Omaha, Nebraska, tomorrow, at which measures to protect the interests of the workers will be discussed. In view of the announcement, today, of wage reductions in the two largest plants in the industry, the conference at Omaha assumes added importance. Labor leaders have promised to discuss plans of mediation before planning strike action, but it is certain that talk of strikes will crop out at the Omaha meeting.

RUSS STRIKERS ARE BOMBARDED

SOVIET ARTILLERY MASSED IN HILLS

Leon Trotzky Takes Reins as Military Dictator of Russia. Given Unlimited Power To End Russian Revolution.

[BULLETIN.]

Copenhagen, March 8.—A heavy artillery duel has been in progress between Kronstadt and forts defending Petrograd, since Monday afternoon, according to information from Helsingfors, today.

Cities Are Quiet.

New York, March 8.—Petrograd and Moscow were quiet, March 6, according to despatches from Moscow, received at the offices of the Russian soviet government here, today. Part of the Kronstadt forts are still held by the "rebels," the despatches said, but the soviet government expected to force their capitulation soon.

Rebels Beaten.

Paris, March 8.—Official dispatches received here during the afternoon confirmed that the Russian anti-Bolshevik rebels have been repulsed by the soviet troops at both Petrograd and Moscow.

The Moscow railway is still functioning normally.

According to official advices received here, the insurgents captured one soviet commissaire, when they took the Kronstadt fortress.

Strikers at Moscow.

London, March 8.—"Several hundred persons were killed at Moscow, when soviet artillery massed in the hills near the city bombarded the workers' headquarters," said a Central News despatch from Helsingfors, this afternoon. "In addition to the killed, large numbers were wounded. The bombardment followed the declaration of a general strike on the part of the workers to enforce their demands for the creation of a constituent assembly. The strikers at Moscow are reported to number over 100,000, at present."

Put to Flight.

Soviet troops that were ordered against the insurgent garrison of Kronstadt attempted to cross on the ice. The cruiser Petropavlosk, which is in the hands of the rebels, opened fire upon the "Red" troops, putting them to flight.

"There are really two revolutions in progress against the Lenine-Trotzky regime," said a Helsingfors despatch to the Daily Express. "One has its center at Petrograd and the other is directed from Moscow. The Petrograd revolt is a movement with soviet rule and are demanding freedom of speech and the press, and the right of individual trade. Moderate Socialists and discontented workmen joined the rebels. The Moscow movement is being carried out by the 'Left' political party, which is dissatisfied with the leadership of Lenine and Trotzky.

"It is improbable that the revolutionary movements now in progress in Russia will succeed in overthrowing either Lenine or Trotzky. Those who look for the present revolution to be successful, or for the early downfall of Bolshevism in Russia are likely to be disappointed."

Negotiations.

The Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Helsingfors reported that the soviet has offered far-reaching concessions to the rebels. The Petrograd soviet has proposed peace negotiations to the Kronstadt insurgents. The insurgent leaders at the fortress said they were willing to receive a deputation, so long as it was only fifteen per cent. Communist in personnel.

"Part of Kronstadt and Lingod are in flames," said another Helsingfors despatch to the Daily Express, this afternoon.

THE FRANK BROTHERS COMPANY

BANS ENTERTAINMENT OF PROMISCUOUS KIND

SUPERINTENDENT IS TO BE HELD RESPONSIBLE.

Contract for North Side Building—Average Daily School Attendance 4,598.5.

A resolution outlining the policy of the board of education toward entertainments in the schools during school hours, the collections of money from the pupils or the solicitation by pupils for the sale of tickets of any kind, was adopted at the regular meeting of the board in the high school building Monday night. Sale of the $70,000 bond issue for remodeling the Central building and the construction of a four-room building on north Main street was set for April 4 and the date for opening bids for the construction of the north Main street building was set for April 12 at noon.

All members, excepting Clerk E. T. Smart, who "passed" on the roll call, voted for the resolution in regard to entertainments.

Up to Superintendent.

The resolution reads:

"Be it resolved by the board of education of the city of Marion, that in the future the routine work of teachers as outlined in their daily program, shall not be interfered with except by the consent and advice of the superintendent of schools.

"That the collection of money by the teachers from the pupils, or the soliciting for the sale of tickets of any kind whatsoever by pupils from the public, be forbidden, except with the consent and advice of the superintendent of schools.

"Principals of all buildings desiring to give school entertainments shall first obtain consent from the superintendent of schools."

Time to Call Halt.

The resolution carried a clause making it effective at once. It is not aimed at any particular principal or teacher, but its purpose it to put the superintendent in closer touch with the activities of the various school buildings, the board holding him directly responsible. In the past there has been considerable work of this kind going on without the knowledge of the superintendent and the board evidently came to the conclusion that it was time to call a halt.

Communications from the city sinking fund trustees and the industrial commission refusing to purchase the $70,000 bond issue were read. The law provides that the next step in the bond sale is to advertise the issue for three consecutive weeks before the opening of bids. the board determined on April 4, at noon, for the opening of the bond bids.

To Execute Contract.

Jacobs & Woolly, architects, explained final plans and specifications for the north Main street building and the president and clerk of the board were authorized to execute a contract with the architects for the supervision of the construction of this new building.

Miss Enid Lunn, of Columbus, deputy supervisor of home economics of the state department of education, reported the result of her observations of the work of the night classes in home economics at the high school and expressed the belief that the board can secure additional state funds for the extension of this work this year. She said the work is going forward most satisfactorily and the women are displaying a great deal of interest in it.

Domestic Science Enrollment.

It was explained that the enrollment for domestic science has been so large that it was necessary to divide the class into two sections and this caused the cutting down of the number of lessons from fifteen to eight. Miss Lunn explained that if the local board wished, she would take the matter up with the state board and try to get additional state funds for the work here so that fifteen lessons may be given to each class yet this year. The proposal met with the enthusiastic support of the board.

A bill of $92.95, representing Dr. H. R. McVay's expenses to the sessions of the superintendents' section of the National Education association in Atlantic City last week, was ordered paid out of the service fund. Other properly approved claims were ordered paid and a number of requisitions for supplies [illegible]

What It Costs.

Figures were presented by Dr. McVay showing that the annual [illegible] cost for each pupil in the city [illegible] is $92.22 and in the [illegible] it is $[illegible]. He explained that these [illegible] represent only the salaries of the [illegible] superintendent, principals and [illegible] and do not include the [illegible] books, fuel and [illegible].

In the discussion it was [illegible] out that these figures were [illegible] with a view to ascertaining the cost of educating pupils from outside the school district, from whom the law permits the board to collect the actual cost to the board for [illegible] instruction.

The board charges five dollars a month for these pupils in the high school, which, according to the figures submitted, is not sufficient to pay the portion of the teachers' salaries.

School Nurse's Report.

The report of Miss Clara Bahre public school nurse, showed 216 defective children out of a total of 370 examined during the month.

Defects were classified as vision, twenty-two; hearing, four; permanent teeth defects, thirty-eight; mouth breathing, forty-nine; recurrent sore throat, 102; enlarged tonsils, 112; signs of anemia, thirty-two; malnutrition, forty-eight; skin disease, four; nervousness, two; backwardness, nine; cases referred to family doctor, 122; to dentist, thirty-eight; eye specialist, twenty-two.

Four were excluded from school, forty-two home visits made and 170 hours spent on duty by the nurse.

The report was received and placed on file.

Enrollment Was 5,000.

The monthly attendance report shows a total enrollment of 5,472, with a monthly enrollment of 5,000.

The average daily attendance was 4,598.5, number of cases of tardiness, 457; number of pupils not absent or tardy, 2,448; [illegible] lost by teacher, 39.5; number of times teachers were tardy, 34; number of visits to parents, 143, and the number of visits from the superintendent, 66.

The board adjourned to meet next Monday night.

PARTY LEADERS AT WHITE HOUSE

Confer with President Harding at Dinner.

IMPORTANT MATTERS ARE GIVEN AIRING

Tasks of Coming Special Session Given Attention—Congress To Meet in April.

Washington, March 8.—At a White House dinner, President Harding and Republican congressional leaders discussed the problems to the approaching special session of congress. The principal subjects on which President Harding sought a comparison of views were the tariff and taxation program, the question of a peace resolution, disarmament and the date for which the session could be called.

At the dinner places of precedence were offered to Senator Lodge, Republican senate leader, and Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, Republican leader of the house. Also among those invited were Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate finance committee, and Representative Fordney, of Michigan, chairman of the house ways and means committee. These are the two committees which will frame tariff and tax legislation.

To speak regarding the plan for passage of a peace resolution, the president also invited Representative Porter, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs and Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, author of such a resolution which the president is understood to have indorsed in substance. Another name on the list of guests which attracted particular attention was that of Senator Johnson of California.

Other guests chosen by Mr. Harding for his first formal legislative conference were Senators Curtis, of Kansas; Warren, of Wyoming; Cummins, of Iowa; Wadsworth, of New York and Poindexter, of Washington and Representatives Mann, of Illinois; Longworth, of Ohio; Kelly, of Michigan; Anthony, of Kansas; Slemp, of Virginia; Campbell, of Kansas; Fess, of Ohio; Towner, of Iowa and Winslow, of Massachusetts.

President Harding announced after the dinner that the special session of congress would be called not before April 4, and might be a week later.

Although the legislative politics of the administration are expected to have a large part in the cabinet meeting, today, the situation with respect to Panama and Costa Rica and many subjects of preliminary organization in the various departments also will come in for consideration. The president has seen each of his secretaries individually at least once since inauguration, but he feels that a general discussion among them will do much toward perfecting his administrative machine.

GERMAN DELEGATES LEAVE LONDON TODAY

Dr. Simons Sure Conference Will Be Reopened.

London, March 8.—The German delegates to the indemnity conference, headed by Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister, left for home, this afternoon. All were in civilian dress, even General von Seeckt, who had appeared at yesterday's sessions in full dress uniform with a long sword at his belt. There was much hat lifting and bowing on the platform of Victoria station while the Germans were waiting for their train. Dr. Simons said he thought that he would be back in London in a few weeks, as he felt confident the conference would be reopened.

On the same train with the Germans were a number of Belgian army officers who had been recalled from leave of absence owing to the allies' decision to advance on the Rhine.

To Begin a Suit.

Cleveland, March 8.—Lakewood city council, last night ordered the law director to file suit to prevent the Cleveland Railway company from charging six cents for fare to Cleveland's most populous suburb. An unexpired franchise provides for a rate of five cents, while Cleveland riders have been paying six cents under the provisions of the Tayler grant. The railway company threatens to reduce service to Lakewood and an injunction against this act is asked.

De Valera Issues Manifesto.

Dublin, March 8.—Eamon De Valera, Irish Republican leader, issued a manifesto in the form of an address to representatives of foreign nations. The manifesto reviews the Irish struggle and recites the circumstances culminating in the declaration of the Irish republic. It concludes: "We call upon mankind to witness that our people have ever been ready to welcome peace with England that has a just basis. No other basis of peace is possible."

Many Arab brides are fattened up for three months before marriage.

CHINESE LOST IN A BRITISH WRECK

London, March 8.—Eight hundred and sixty Chinese lost their lives when the British steamship, Hong Ho, was wrecked near Swatowa, said a despatch from Singapore, today. The Hong Ho, which sailed from Singapore, was enroute from that port to Amoy, with 1,100 Chinese on board. A British destroyer and cruiser rescued 250 of the Chinese, but there were no other survivors.

TO STUDY CONDITIONS IN THE PHILIPPINES

Major General Wood To Make an Investigation.

Washington, March 8.—Major General Leonard Wood has been detailed at the request of President Harding to go to the Philippine Islands and make a study of conditions there in the light of Philippine aspirations for independence.

The mission was formally intrusted to General Wood at a conference between him and the president at which Secretary Weeks, of the war department, also was present. It was decided that such a plan would be preferable to Mr. Harding's original plan to make General Wood governor of the islands. It was said the time of General Wood's departure and the length of his stay in the islands has not been fixed.

KERENSKY SEES END OF LENINE

To Assume Command of Anti-"Red" Forces.

SOVIET GOVERNMENT BELIEVED TOTTERING

Central European Countries May Declare War on Soviet Russia Shortly.

Paris, March 8.—Kerensky, one-time ruler of Russia, left Paris for Reval to personally assume command of the movement to overthrow the soviets.

Details of the program under which Kerensky will work were drawn up by the Russian revolutionary committee in Paris in January. It has since been revised and approved by allied military and diplomatic chiefs.

On the eve of his departure Kerensky explained his plans. "This is the beginning of the end for Lenine," he said. "Within six months Russia will no longer be a communist state, but a republic modeled after America. The movement which began Feb. 28 at Kronstadt is spreading throughout Russia like a forest fire. Peasants in the Ukraine, the northern Caucasus, the Crimea and in western Siberia have revolted."

S. A. Milukoff, the first president of free Russia, is remaining in Paris, charged with the work of getting aid from the allies for the white army. "Russia asks moral and material aid but no military help from Europe or the United States," he said. "This is purely a Russian movement and we do not want a single allied soldier."

From the highest sources, however, it is learned that as soon as the fall of Petrograd is confirmed a general war upon soviet Russia will be decided upon by Poland, Hungary and Roumania and possibly Bulgaria. Plans for this campaign have been drawn up, it is said, by Marshal Petain, and approved by Marshal Foch.

The central European armies will receive active aid from the allies in the shape of money, munitions, food, rolling stock and officers. In this connection it is asserted in well informed quarters that hundreds of former Russian nobles have been secretly training in French and British military schools in order to be qualified to officer the revolutionaries when the signal is given.

Wireless dispatches from Russia admit that the situation at Kronstadt is grave.

The soviet government denies, however, that Petrograd has fallen, and they deny reports of peasant revolts except in the Ukraine. They announce that a red army of 500,000 is concentrated at Gatchina, 45 miles south of Petrograd, commanded by Trotzky, who is preparing an advance to crush the revolt.

The soviet messages also deny that the soviet government has moved from Moscow to Nizhnivnovgrod.

The revolutionaries are bombarding Petrograd and soviet batteries at Sestorisk, Revonnena and Tarbovka are bombarding Kronstadt, says a despatch from Viborg.

Successful Operation.

Athens, March 8.—A successful operation was performed this morning, upon Princess Nicholas, wife of Prince Christopher, who before her marriage, was Miss William B. Leeds. The operation was conducted by Dr. Gerouleros, after a consultation with Dr. Alden B. Hoover an American physician. It was announced that the princess was out of danger. She was without fever, the afternoon, and her pulse was 120.

CUBA IS TOLD TO GET BUSY

General Crowder Is Now Taking Drastic Steps.

CUBAN SUPREME COURT IS TOO SLOW

Little Enthusiasm Shown in Deciding Election Contests—Intervention Threatened.

Washington, March 8.—Major General Enoch H. Crowder, special representative of the United States in Cuba, is bringing pressure to bear upon the Cuban government in its effort to untangle the political affairs of the island republic. Reports from Havana, today, indicated that General Crowder has been compelled to take strong measures against the Cuban supreme court, which has shown little enthusiasm for its task of deciding the various election disputes, which must be settled before the new president is designated.

It was stated on good authority, today, that General Crowder's representation to the Cuban authorities constituted virtually a threat of intervention.

By elections to decide results in disputed districts were to be held in February. Later, the date was set for March 1. Now comes the announcement that they probably will not be held before March 15.

President Menocal's term of office will expire in May and when General Crowder went to Havana, early in January, he had instructions from President Wilson to point out that if a president of Cuba has not been chosen by the time Menocal went out of office, the United States, under the terms of the Platt amendment, would be obliged to administer the "ad interim" government. Recent reports indicate that the time is even more limited, as the present Cuban congress automatically is dissolved early in April and certain legislation is understood to be necessary before the new president assumes office.

Though the new administration has made no announcement as to its plans with regard to Cuba, it is believed that no change of policy is contemplated.

ETHEL BARRYMORE LEAVES HUSBAND

Separation Agreement Announced by Law Firm.

New York, March 8.—Counsel for Ethel Barrymore, famous American actress, yesterday, confirmed reports that she had separated from her husband, Russell G. Colt.

In a formal announcement William Nelson Cromwell, of the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell, declared that a separation agreement had been executed by the Colts, who now were living apart in accordance with its terms. Miss Barrymore retains the sole custody of their three children, but provision is made for their father visiting them.

Mr. Colt's companionship with the children, however, will be "subject to the arrangements and convenience of their mother," and their own health and studies as determined by her.

In confirming reports of the estrangement, the attorney said such action seemed wise in order to "clear the atmosphere" of rumors.

Miss Barrymore, the statement continued, has virtually recovered from the operations upon her fingers and tonsils performed at Cincinnati and in New York. Several weeks ago she abandoned a road tour in "Declasse" and entered a hospital in Cincinnati.

Later she was brought to this city by her uncle, John Drew, and rumors of domestic trouble then became more frequent.

Today Miss Barrymore was removed from her hospital room here to the hotel, where Mr. Drew resides. She immediately will begin preparations to play opposite her brother John in a drama to be produced in New York soon.

NOTICE IS SERVED RAILROAD WORKERS

Minneapolis Roads Cut Wages of Their Workers.

Minneapolis, March 8.—Railroads running into Minneapolis, today, served notice on maintenance-of-way employes, common laborers in the railroad shops, and bridge workers of a cut in wages to a minimum of twenty-eight cents an hour. The present minimum wage in this class of work is forty-eight and one-half cents an hour.

The reductions are to become effective in thirty days. About 25,000 men in the Twin Cities are affected by the proposed wage cuts.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BACKS CENTENNIAL PLAN

Also Gets Behind New Hotel Project Here.

ARRANGES FOR THREE STATE MEETINGS HERE

Directors Also Want Subway Under the Hocking Valley and Pennsylvania Tracks.

At a regular meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce Monday night, committees were named to outline plans for a centennial celebration, act on a proposition for a new hotel in Marion, arrange for three state conventions here this summer, and take up the matter of repaving or resurfacing Center street from State to Davids streets, and construct a subway under the Hocking Valley and Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at Center street.

J. Wilbur Jacoby, chairman; George B. Knapp and O. G. Briggs were named to outline a plan for a centennial celebration and submit their recommendations to the board at its next meeting. Their recommendations are to include suggestions as to the various committees to be created for this work, and also the organization of a society to gather historical documents and articles for an historical exhibit to be held in connection with the centennial celebration.

It is understood that it is the intention to make this historical body a permanent organization and arrange for a permanent place for the exhibition and care of such historical documents and articles.

Repaving Center Street.

O. G. Briggs, chairman; F. A. Huber and Harry F. Palmer were named to take up the matter of repaving Center street and the construction of the west Center street subway. The matter of a subway has been talked of for some time, but this is the first move toward the accomplishment of the improvement.

It has been pointed out that the present grade of the tracks and the level of the street are ideal for the construction of a subway at this point. The street on both sides of the tracks is considerably lower than the level of the tracks and this would lessen the amount of excavation in order to provide the proper grade.

Delays in Traffic.

This improvement, too, it is argued, would lessen delays in traffic along west Center street, both to and from the shops, and it would also eliminate delays in street car and interurban service. The improvement would include the widening of west Center street, west of the down-town business district.

C. B. King, C. N. Phillips, E. K. Thlot, J. F. Prendergast, F. B. Merrison, W. T. Jones, French Crow, Josiah Bindley and L. H. Gaffney were named on the hotel committee to take up the proposition of a Chicago architect for the construction of a local hotel. They were given power to act for the chamber of commerce.

Three Conventions.

Three state conventions are to be held in Marion this year, the state convention of the Christian church, which is expected to bring 600 delegates; the Gideons, which will bring approximately 100, and the Ohio Retail Merchants' Secretaries association, which will bring about fifty. C. L. VanAradell, R. T. Lewis, E. L. Bush and Roy M. L. Buckley constitute this committee.

W. H. Holverstott, president, and Harry F. Palmer, secretary, were chosen as delegates to the annual convention of the chamber of commerce of the United States in Atlantic City, New Jersey, April 27, 28 and 29.

The president was authorized to appoint a committee of five to work with the city council in an effort to improve the water and street car situation.

Dr. H. R. McVay, chairman; O. H. Carrier and Dr. Jesse Swank were named a committee on American ideals. The chamber of commerce of the United States has been working to have such a committee appointed in each chamber of commerce in the country and the appointment of this committee was in line with this effort.

PRESIDENT PORRAS TALKS OF PANAMA

Panama Will Accept Mediation Under Protest.

Balboa, Panama, March 8.—The republic of Panama will accept under protest mediation of the United States in the dispute with Costa Rica, President Baliscrio Porras declared. He made the statement following receipt of an ultimatum from Secretary of State Hughes, demanding cessation of hostilities.

Porras said Panama will continue arming in preparation for compelling the Costa Ricans to evacuate Almirante if those forces are not withdrawn.

In an interview President Porras said: "I have received Secretary Hughes' note, which has given me a very painful impression, because he advises to withdraw our troops from the Coto territory, which always has been under our jurisdiction and which we have recovered after it had been invaded three times by Costa Ricans. The award of that territory by Chief Justice White is entirely unacceptable to Panama. This does not mean that Panama will not accept mediation. We will accept, but we protest the basis of the White award."

Suspended Workhouse Sentence.

Bert James, arraigned in Justice G. Farr Larle's court this morning on a charge of non-support, was given a sentence of four months in the Dayton work house. The sentence was suspended on James making a cash settlement for the support of his minor child, who will be sixteen years of age March 27. James was arrested in Akron Saturday and brought to Marion by Deputy Sheriff S. D. Belt.

Big Changes.

New York, March 8.—The seven-day week and the long turn in changing shifts have been entirely eliminated from all plants of the United States Steel corporation, E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors, announced in a statement. Mr. Gary also said that a committee is investigating the twelve-hour-day question and should submit the report on their findings in the near future.

Is Found Guilty.

Chicago, March 8.—"Mike de Pike" Heitler, notorious Chicago character, and one-time king of the city's underworld, was found guilty of conspiracy and violation of prohibition laws by a jury here, today, in the $200,000 "booze ring" case, which has been on trial for a month. Five of Heitler's codefendants were found guilty with him. The maximum penalty is two years' imprisonment, or $10,000 fine, or both.

Proposals Rejected.

Columbus, March 8.—Claiming they are "excessive, unjust and unreasonable," the state utilities commission, today, rejected the proposals of the American Railway Express company to increase its charges for carrying ice-cream shipments and returning empty containers.

THE SITUATION IS FAVORABLE

Panama-Costa Rican Frontier Matter Clearing.

COSTA RICA TROOPS REPORTED RETIRING

Feeling Is Running High in Panama City—President Porras Under Triple Guard.

Balboa, Panama, March 8.—A more favorable situation existed along the Panama-Costa Rican frontier, today, news being received here that the Costa Rican troops who had crossed into Panama territory were retiring across the Sixaola river which was the frontier fixed by the "White" boundary award.

Feeling is running high in Panama City and the guard of United States troops around the official residence of President Porras has been trebled. A mass-meeting was held, last night, when speakers protested against mediation by the United States upon the basis of the "White" award. Sixty municipal councils throughout the republic have sent protests of similar nature to the government. All were turned over to the national assembly, which was expected to serve formal notice on President Porras not to accept United States mediation unless it was on the principle of the Loubet award, which gave Panama more territory than the "White award."

A force of Panamans rounded up about 100 Costa Rican stragglers, making prisoners of them. The captives included three colonels and a major. A permanent camp for "war prisoners" has been established at Taboga island.

Washington, March 8.—The approved policies of the war department contemplate the organization of the military forces of the nation into "one harmonious, well balanced and effective army—the army of the United States, consisting, as provided by law, of the regular army, the National guard and the organized reserve," Secretary of War Weeks announced today.

Mrs. Stokes was asked to identify a picture of herself with a man. She said the man was her cousin, Hal Billig.

Stokes, prominent millionaire, and formerly owner of the Hotel Ansonia, mentioned seven men in his accusations against his wife.

EXCITEMENT IN WILLIAMSON

FIVE SHOTS CALL TOWN INTO STREET

People Fear Trouble Issues from Trial of Hatfield, but Fears Are Unfounded.

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, West Virginia, March 8.—A man killed another over a woman here, last night. As a result, the "trigger" trial court crowd seemed to take more interest in the proceedings, today.

Earl Chapman is under arrest charged with the murder of [illegible] Allen. Both are railroad men.

Five shots rang out in the stillness of night, about 12:15 a. m. A thrill gripped those who heard them.

"Is this the beginning of the end?" seemed to be the question on the lips of all who heard the shooting.

What happened then was an illustration of preparedness. The "first floor," in the Hotel Vaughan was alive with men. The Anderson twins, World war veterans, who miraculously escaped from the Matewan gun battle that led to the trial of seventeen men for their lives, were among the first to reach the street. Ex-Judge Marcum was there in his shirt sleeves. Newspaper men were engaged in a "friendly game" when the shots were heard.

Five minutes after the first shot, practically every attorney connected with the bullet-battle case was out on the street, scantily dressed, to find out what had happened. State police were there, also, to supervise the doings.

When it was found that the killing of Allen had no bearing on the "trigger" trial, everybody went to bed.

Mr. Chase was a direct descendant on his father's side of Samuel Chase, of Baltimore, Maryland, who signed the Declaration of American Independence, and on his mother's side of Stephen Hopkins, of Providence, Rhode Island, who also signed the Declaration of Independence. Chairman Fordney was leader of the bonus forces in the last congress and was successful in having the bill passed by the house. It died in the senate.

bill combining tariff and tax revision discussed?" the president was asked.

"There was not," he replied. "We discussed both the tariff and taxation and the form the revision of each would probably take. That was all. Without going into details, we mapped out a program which we expect to see take definite and final form satisfactorily. There is much to be done, but we believe it will all be accomplished successfully.

"We believe tonight's conference was an important step toward the fulfillment of that type of government, of that cooperation between the executive and legislative branches, which we regard as most likely to render good service to the country. We have but begun, hopeful that all will end well."

Armour and Swift concerns made known that they are at work on a plan whereby their employes will be given a voice in the management of the packing plants. Details of the plan are to be announced in the near future, today's statement says.

The announcement of wage reductions is accompanied by a statement that the minimum wage guarantee of forty hours' pay a week will be continued. Time and one-half for overtime will be paid for all work performed after ten hours in any one day, or after fifty-four hours in any one week.

Because of the dependency of the packing industry upon the fluctuating movements of livestock, the statement says, the basic eight-hour day can not be continued.

New Goods Every Day!

The secret of maintaining a standard store of dependable goods, selling at less than usual market prices, is in having quick "turn overs" of merchandise. Merchandise bears interest just as money does. If you borrow money today and pay it back tomorrow, the accommodation is inexpensive. If you buy goods today and sell them tomorrow, only a small profit is necessary to pay the carrying charge. Then you take your money and go back into the market and immediately buy again.

This is the whole plan of Frank Bros. Co. store. It is the vital thing about its success.

The always fresh goods sell very quickly—and then come new fresh goods for the next day or month.

Please consider this your personal invitation to see the new spring goods at the new low prices this very day.

Cleans by Air Alone Royal Electric Cleaner

The Royal Motor is designed to develop high speed and power with lowest current consumption. Under working condition the motor revolves at the speed of 9,500 revolutions per minute, producing through the scientifically designed fan, an air current having a velocity of 120 miles per hour. It is thus easy to realize why the Royal, moving air at such a tremendous speed, cleans so thoroughly and quickly.

High motor speed is necessary to develop high air velocity. High air velocity is necessary to efficient cleaning. Only in the Royal are these two features developed to the utmost. The powerful Royal suction whisks every particle of dust and dirt out of your carpets, no matter how deeply it may be ground in, leaving the nap fresh and erect, and restoring the colorings to their original brightness.

The Royal raises no dust or germs to contaminate the air, and leaves none to be raised after the cleaning operation is completed.

With every Royal Cleaner we give a binding guarantee which absolutely protects the Royal owner against defects in material and workmanship. Thus we prove our faith in Royal Quality.

When you purchase a Royal you do not only have the satisfaction of knowing that you have the best cleaner that money can buy, but that you are absolutely protected in every way.

Mrs Inez Bryant and Miss Bernice Pickering entertained the members of Trinity Sorority, of Trinity Baptist church, Monday evening, at their home on Hane avenue. There was a good attendance. Reports of the Worldwide guild State convention held at Dayton, Friday, Saturday and Sunday were given at last night's meeting. A debate, "Resolved, That the Old Testament Contained More of a Missionary Message Than the New," which was given at the convention by the delegates from this city, was given again last night. Those taking part were Miss Isabel Uncapher and Louise Tower, affirmative, and Miss Marie Tower and Elsie Barger negative. A social hour followed the debate.

Miss Barnhart Chosen President.

Miss Shirley Barnhart was elected president of the Otterbein guild, of the First United Brethren church, at a meeting held Monday evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Cahill, of Cherry street. Other officers are Mayetta Seigfried, vice president; Gladys Williams, secretary; Miss [illegible] Reeder, assistant secretary, Miss Faye Mackey, treasurer. Miss Gemma Aeff was appointed pianist, and Miss [illegible] assistant pianist. Miss Esther Walters was elected secretary of literature and Miss Katherine Beeler, church offering secretary.

Miss Florence Reeder of Mt. Vernon Ave. were elected delegates to the district convention to be held at Bucyrus the latter part of May. The guild passed the sum of $35 for next year.

Following the business session a short program was enjoyed, Miss Dorothy Cahill contributing a vocal solo and Miss Florence Reeder a reading. A piano duet by Miss Faye Mackey and Miss Dorothy Cahill was followed by the covenant hymn, which closed the program.

Otterbein Aid Society Elects.

The following officers were elected at a meeting of the Ladies' Aid society, of the Otterbein church, Thursday, at the church, one mile north of Newman's. Mrs. H. R. Van Houten, president; Mrs. Gertrude Jacobs, vice president; Mrs. Edna Knachel, secretary; Miss Marie Nickelson, assistant secretary; Mrs. Daisy Wasserbeck, treasurer. The day was passed in sewing for the Otterbein home at Lebanon.

Calvary Church Revival.

Last night witnessed one of the greatest services thus far held during the revival, it was one of the greatest in power, in decision, and in victory. There were not so many definite decisions, just two; but these were great victories.

The pastor preached on the theme "Striving To Enter In," and Herbert C. Johnson, of Parkersburg, West Virginia, sang a solo. The attendance was one of the best of the Monday night audiences. The subject for tonight will be "An Unanswerable Question."

Central Christian Church Revival.

A large Monday evening audience heard Rev. Roy L. Brown at the Central Christian church on "Lop-Sided People." Three people went forward. There were six converts baptized during the song service.

This evening Evangelist Brown will preach the chart sermon that he intended to preach Sunday evening. Baptismal services were announced for this evening during the opening devotional services.

NEW SPRING CORSETS

Suitable for athletics or dress.

For the lady who desires to experience the ease of an uncorseted figure were these corsets especially designed, made with the three hook flexible top. This new feature eliminates the unpleasant punching at the top of the corset and insures the wearer of perfect comfort and satisfaction.

As a concession to the modern demand for daintiness these new corsets are made of woven materials, known as "the material that breathes"—while it confines, it also gives with each movement of the body, in either pink or white and are trimmed with beautiful laces, embroideries and ribbons. Comfort and style are strong arguments in favor of these corsets.

Prices from $4.00 upward.

Now-a-days Most Cars Are Used Cars!

Buyers of used cars are the ones who ofttimes do get unusual big values. This is because many car owners change to new cars every season or two—when the old car really is as good as new.

WE SAY—COME AND SEE

It's not possible to enumerate each car now on the sales floor, because every day sees a changing list.

Farmers Asked To Donate for European Relief.

QUOTA FOR THE STATE IS HALF MILLION BUSHELS

County Farm Agent S. B. Stowe Receives Wire from the Ohio Farm Bureau.

Marion county has been asked to donate 30,000 bushels of corn for European relief according to a telegram received at the offices of the Marion County Farm bureau this morning from the Ohio State Farm Bureau federation

An effort is being made to raise 5,000,000 bushels of corn in the United States for this relief work and Ohio has promised 500,000 bushels of this amount The telegram this morning stated that one and one half per cent of the crop, is asked which would make Marion county's quota 30,000 bushels, as last year's yield amounted to 1,000,000 bushels

County Farm Agent S B Stowe stated that work of raising corn has already been begun through the heads of the township farm bureaus and other organization workers through the county The telegram from the Ohio federation reads:

"Ohio has promised 500,000 bushels of corn for European relief How much can your county raise and how soon? One and one half per cent of the crop is asked Nothing less than a carload accepted at any station We must get this corn out inland at once in order to get free freight Letter following, but do not wait for it."

Mr Stowe said that he is unable at present, to make an estimate of the amount which can be raised in Marion county

Daily Proverb—"Counsel is irksome when the matter is past remedy."

The only distressing phase of the Russian revolution is that it is not more revolutionary.

Buying whisky at $15 a quart will hardly pass muster as so much as a thirty-second cousin to a working plan for getting rich.

The trouble with the early strawberry is that it tastes too much like straw and not enough like a berry.

If we simply have to cancel some country's indebtedness to us, let's cancel Russia's. She might want to pay us off in rubles, and look what the storage would cost!

If we get Mr. Marshall correctly, when it comes to the matter of rest cures the vice presidency has all others beaten to a frazzle.

"The coal operators have been fixing the coal prices," says an exchange. That's all right so long as the weatherman keeps on fixing the weather as he has thus far this winter.

"There are always people," remarks the Dallas News, "who never seem to have anything but ancestors." But they may always be depended on to make the utmost of them.

It's our guess that the speaker who declared before an assemblage of educators that Americans are lip lazy never listened in on a meeting of a women's bridge club.

One thing is certain, if Henry Ford ever perfects his synthetic cow, it will not be necessary purely in the interest of health to pasteurize her milk with the apparent effect of removing a goodly percentage of the cream.

The eighteen-year-old girl allowed $10,000 a year for expenses by a New York court may be able to struggle along on that amount. It's possible that she doesn't have to make a showing like a spreader of joy and sunshine in paragraphs.

"Marion will now take its chance in the news with the other live towns of Ohio," the Canton News remarks. Sure, Mike! But we have the satisfaction of knowing that we made the utmost of the opportunity while it was ours.

GET OUT OF THE RUT.

If the road-builders really want to tackle the highway problem they might begin by taking a look at the map of the United States.

With all due praise to the states whose highway activity has been of a high order, the national plan must build from the outside in, and not from the inside out. So long as the problem is inspected from the viewpoint of individual states, just so long will there be national highways that expire after crossing the state line.

The problem is not beyond the capacity of builders of reasonable intelligence, if once the limit of eloquence can be laid. The boundaries of the United States are fairly well known, and here are certain rules which apply to any general scheme. These rules include suggestive terminals, such as are represented in the first and obvious stage by New York and San Francisco.

It needs no argument that wherever there is population there is needed transportation for it. Existing business determines the first lines, to which the whole country should be bound by tributary roads, sufficient of which retain the capacity to become primary roads when necessity arises.

With the waterways, the answer is still simpler. Wherever there is a useable waterway there are cities on it; communities cluster near water. That these natural highways should be brought into usefulness wherever the traffic demands, goes for the saying. What is not available today can be used tomorrow; the water, in a general way, will still be there.

The difficulty in road-building is not so much one of men, as of words. The only highway paved by good intentions returns no traffic report; but it is understood to be extravagantly resurfaced continually. The first essential to road construction is to get out of the rut.

SUBJECT FOR COMMENDATION.

The executive council of the American Federation of Labor, which met in Washington last week, took action which will commend itself to the citizens of the United States who believe that radicalism has no place in this country and that it should not be encouraged in other nations.

Some of the unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor have expressed sympathy for the soviet government of Russia, on the plea that it represented the principles of labor. The federation adopted a resolution repudiating the soviets of Russia, and declaring that they have turned against the workers of that country. The federation has carried its condemnation of radicalism still further, voting to sever its relations with the International Federation of Trade unions, alleging that the international body is devoted to radicalism of a revolutionary character.

The action of the American Federation of Labor is encouraging to the belief that organized labor intends to clear itself of the influence of any leadership whose patriotism is not above question. While the federation will continue to agitate for government in the interests of labor, no countenance will be given to "revolutionary activities."

The federation should carry its pronouncements still further, and it should insist that the various organizations affiliated with the national body depose any leaders who have voiced their opposition to organized government, as some of them have done. It is not enough that general condemnation of radicalism should be voiced, but syndicalists and other anti-government agitators should be eliminated from control of organized labor in the United States.

"In 1912," says a Chicago paragrapher, "the Republican party carried but four states, and now look at it." Great Scott, man! Which were the other two?

If we get the board's decision it is that, morally, the Erie is all to the bad; but that as there isn't any penalty attached, there isn't any legal power to bring it within the letter of the law.

We confess to just a little bit of curiosity regarding the identity of the tenant of that $30.50 home vacated by Vice President Coolidge; provided, of course, the landlord hasn't raised the rent on him.

An exchange reports that there are bogus revenue tax collectors abroad in the land. Take it from us, that's our idea of an extra-hazardous occupation.

ADVANTAGES AND RESPONSIBILITIES.

The "era of good feeling" forecast for the Harding administration by many political observers following the unprecedented majority given the president at the election seems about to be realized. Well wishes and expressions of commendation for the announced Harding policies have been brought forth by the opening days of the new administration, from newspapers and other quarters hostile to the president in the campaign, such as no chief executive had ever received upon taking office.

But the new administration is to be far more than a Madisonian "era of good feeling." The practical harmony assured by the substantial Republican majorities in house and senate are highly gratifying, but these very advantages impose the heavy responsibility upon the administration to get things done with especial promptitude and efficiency for the nation's welfare. It should be an era not merely of "good feeling," but of good and great works.

If at the time of President Harding has inherited a heavy burden of things left undone by his predecessor, from all the records is his opportunity for constructive statesmanship. That he realizes to the full the tremendous task with which he is confronted is evident in his splendid thoughtful inaugural address and by the thorough-going manner in which he is completing the administration organization [illegible] to tackle for the big tasks ahead.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

[By James Ball Naylor]

HISTORICAL JOKES.

It has been reported that P. T. Barnum, the great showman, once said:

"The world loves to be hoodwinked—and delights to pay for it."

Is this statement true?

Whether it be true or not, the world has been hoodwinked many times—in divers ways. Sometimes the jokes perpetrated upon society have done good; sometimes they have worked evil. The peoples of the world have been fooled times without number, politically, governmentally, religiously, economically, financially; and again they have been fooled by practical jokers just because the jokers desired to show that they could be fooled.

I shall offer a few examples of the practical jokes that have been worked upon the world.

Years ago the Duke of Portland declared to a group of his associates in London:

"Let a man advertise the most impossible thing in the world, he will find fools enough in London to fill a playhouse and pay handsomely for the privilege of being there."

The duke's friends doubted his declaration; and the Earl of Chesterfield contended:

"If a man should say that he would jump into a quart bottle, nobody would believe that assertion."

Well, the thing was tried; an advertisement was put in the London papers, to the effect that on a certain evening a man on the stage of the Haymarket theater would jump into a quart bottle, in plain sight of the audience. And what was the result of this attempted hoax? The theater was crowded to the doors; and the jokers realized a number of pounds upon their venture.

At another time an unknown joker in London just before the first day of April, sent out artistically printed cards, headed: "The Tower of London," inviting the recipients to come to the tower and witness the annual washing of the white lions. The gullible people never stopped to think that they were invited to make the visit on the first day of April. Did they bite—did they go? They did; and in such numbers that it took an extra police force to disperse them.

Are the English more gullible than the Americans?

Not at all.

The story of the Cardiff giant is well known. George Hull, of Binghampton, New York, perpetrated the hoax. He had the huge figure of a man moulded out of gypsum. Then he chipped it, scarred it, and finally buried it—to give it the appearance of great age, and to make it look like a petrified human being. Last, he had it conveniently unearthed by well-diggers. A sensation resulted. The news of the wonderful find flew over the land—over the world. Some scientists thought the figure an ancient statue; others thought it a petrified giant, of pre-historic lineage. P. T. Barnum, who had made a business of fooling others, was fooled by the Cardiff giant—and sought to buy it.

You can fool part of the people all the time—and all the people part of the time.

Away back in 1835 a twelve-dollar-a-week reporter in New York made the American public believe that Sir John Herchel, the noted astronomer, down at the Cape of Good Hope, by the use of an immense telescope had discovered inhabitants on the moon; and Edgar Allen Poe once succeeded in making the whole American reading public accept the statement that an English flying machine had crossed the Atlantic and landed at Sullivan's island, near Charleston.

Do people love to be hoaxed?

Germany finds that next to paying for dead horse comes paying for dead hopes.—Boston Herald.

Possibly the first move toward obtaining a naval holiday [illegible] disarm suspicion.—Detroit Free Press.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

J. P. Carmine was the Republican nominee for mayor at Green Camp.

The county commissioners decided to dispense with plank [illegible] east.

It was announced that a rural delivery would be established out of Prospect April 1.

Wesley J. Fulton, who had been in the Philippines, was home on a furlough.

The Marion County Agricultural society fixed the fair dates for September 24, 25, 26 and 27.

Miss Florence A. Fairchild and Christopher Jacob Gompf were married the day before by Rev. Otto Sprengl.

E. E. Brown was suffering from a relapse of the grip, which had taken a congestive form in the head and face.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Encapher celebrated the sixty-third anniversary of their marriage at their home on Bellefontaine avenue.

Arthur Stockwell, of Agosta, aged twenty-five, was instantly killed at LaRue when he stepped in front of a Big Four passenger train.

The construction of the Wesley M. E. church at Center street and Oliney avenue had reached a point where it was ready for the roof.

Already bicycle riders had launched a movement looking to the repeal of an ordinance compelling them to carry a lighted lamp on their wheels at night.

TODAY'S EVENTS

The construction of a deep waterway from the lakes to the sea was discussed by the National Waterways Association of Canada, meeting in annual session today at Toronto.

Physicians from all over New York state are in Albany today to protest against the bills pending in the legislature making more stringent the conditions under which narcotic drugs may be administered.

Professor Albert Einstein, of Berlin, the inventor of what is known as the "Einstein theory of relativity," left for the United States today to attend a meeting of the committee interested in the establishment of a university in Palestine.

General Bramwell Booth, world head of the Salvation army, who is now visiting America, celebrated his sixty-fifth birthday today. By an interesting coincidence this is also the fortieth anniversary of the landing of the first corps of the Salvation army in the United States.

SEES SISTER FOR FIRST TIME IN FORTY YEARS

William Detrick Enjoying Life Down in Florida.

William Detrick, of No. [illegible] Center street, who is now at Winter Haven, Florida, enroute to Florida last November stopped off at his old home in West Virginia and met a sister he had not seen for forty years. He tells about it and his life in Florida in a letter written to the Star at Winter Haven under date of February 4. His letter follows in part:

"I left my home in Marion about November 15 and went to West Virginia to visit my old home, where I was born and raised but moved away from there in 1874 to that great old state of Ohio. I visited some of my old friends, especially a sister whom I had not seen for some forty years. I visited in Hardy, Grant and Pendleton counties and, after a six-weeks' visit, left Pittsburgh for Washington and then to Jacksonville, Florida. From Jacksonville I went to Winter Haven arriving on January 4.

"This was my first visit to Florida and the orange and grapefruit trees loaded down with golden fruit. This is a fine climate in winter, nice sunshine, every day like May or June in Ohio. It is warm every day but cool during the night. The flowers are blooming all winter and everything green and nice.

"We have vegetables and strawberries to eat all winter. The orange trees are blooming and some of them full of fruit. It all looks very strange. There are hundreds of boxes of oranges and grapefruit that are hauled to the dump and piled up to be culled and some have just a little spot on them, just as good as any. If the poor kiddies of Marion had them to eat they wouldn't many go to waste.

"You can see groves for miles around. This is the best part of the state, it is claimed, for citrous fruit. There are 100 lakes in Polk county. They have dug canals from one lake to another for over twenty-five miles so they can run boats from one to the other for fishing. Some of the lakes are more than a mile across.

"The land is most all sand of different color, some very white, some very dark. The dark soil is the best. Some of the land near the lake is a muck and is good for truck and strawberries.

"There is a packing house just across from where I am stopping. They load from six to seven cars of the fruit a day when they run on full time but it has been a little dull for some time, as prices are low on fruit and a slow sale. There are many laborers out of work here.

"They commence to pick oranges the first of October and continue to pick until June next, as they will hang on the trees ripe for a month. I eat all the oranges I can while I am here. I go nearly every day and get a sack full and bring them over to the hotel where I am stopping with my niece and nephew who operate the hotel.

There is Strength in Every Tablet

One dose often helps commence to enrich your blood and revitalize your wornout exhausted nerves — Nuxated Iron is organic iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach. It is so prepared that it will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. It is ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood while some physicians claim metallic iron which people usually take is not absorbed at all. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two fivegrain tablets of Nuxated Iron—three times per day, after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. At all druggists.—dv.

DR. C. E. SAWYER TO BE A BRIGADIER GENERAL

Will Be Assigned as President Harding's Physician.

NO CHANGE IN AFFAIRS OF SANATORIUM HERE

Is Former President of American Institute of Homeopathy. His Notable Success.

Dr. C. E. Sawyer is to be made a brigadier general in the army medical corps, a Washington dispatch to the Star over its International News service leased wire announced late morning. This action, it is said, will be taken preliminary to Dr. Sawyer's assignment as personal physician to President Harding.

President Harding and Dr. Sawyer have been close personal friends for years and the doctor was one of the original boosters of Mr. Harding for the presidency. He took an active part in the pre-convention campaign and in the Chicago convention which nominated Mr. Harding last June.

Dr. Sawyer also was active in the association, which carried out the arrangements for the entertainment of Marion's visitors during the campaign and accompanied Mr.

Dr. C. E. Sawyer.

Harding as his personal physician, on all of the speaking trips of the campaign. Dr. Sawyer also accompanied Mr. Harding on his vacation trip to Texas and Panama immediately after the election and went to Florida toward the end of President Harding's stay there and returned with the Harding party. The doctor accompanied Mr. Harding to Washington for the inaugural.

Success Is Notable.

During his twenty-six years as a Marion resident Dr. Sawyer has made a notable success in his profession and is head of the sanatorium which he founded at White Oaks farm, southwest of Marion.

Born January 24, 1860, near Wyandot, Dr. Sawyer resided at Nevada until about seventeen years of age, obtaining his literary education in the village schools there. At seventeen he began the study of medicine and subsequently entered the Cleveland Medical college, where he was graduated in 1881.

Dr. Sawyer entered into the practice of his profession at LaRue, remaining there until 1893, when he went to Indianapolis and after two years there came to Marion. July, 1895, the Dr. C. E. Sawyer sanatorium was opened on south Main street. It at first occupied only the center part of the building. The year following the south wing was added and in 1899 the continued growth of the institution required the erection of the north wing of the building.

In 1900 the sanatorium was incorporated as the Dr. C. E. Sawyer Sanatorium company and the first officers were Dr. C. E. Sawyer, president; George W. King, vice president; M. E. Sawyer, secretary and treasurer, and A. E. Cheney and H. B. Hane, directors.

Four Years Later.

Four years later the Ohio Sanatorium company was organized, with a capital stock of $450,000, consolidating at the same time the Dr. C. E. Sawyer sanatorium and the Park View sanatorium, at Columbus. The officers of this company were: Dr. C. E. Sawyer, president and general manager; George W. King, vice president; M. E. Sawyer, treasurer; Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, secretary; Dr. J. W. Adair, house physician, and H. B. Hane, O. S. Rapp and Dr. H. C. Rutter, of Columbus, directors.

Several years ago Dr. Sawyer established the institution at White Oaks farm, and the sanatorium has enjoyed a wonderful growth under his direction.

During the World war, Dr. Sawyer served as an official in the Marion County War board and was active in all of the war work of that organization. He also served as secretary of the National Volunteer Medical Service corps, an organization of doctors above the age limit for active service, which was formed to be ready in case the government needed their services.

Recently Dr. Sawyer retired as president of the American Institute of Homeopathy and for years served as chairman of the board of directors of that organization.

Announcement was made today that Dr. Sawyer's expected appointment will cause no change in the management of White Oaks farm.

MRS. LIBBY HOLLAND BURIED IN MICHIGAN

Sister of Mrs. E. J. Cook, of Marseilles—Notes.

Marseilles, O., March 8.—(Special.)—Mrs. E. J. Cook was called to North Branch, Michigan Saturday, to attend the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Libby Holland, whose death was caused by pneumonia.

The Marseilles lecture course committee met Saturday evening in the Presbyterian church and selected their numbers for the coming year from the Colt Lyceum course.

Rev. F. H. Hardenburk, pastor of the Presbyterian church, is holding a series of Evangelistic meetings. The meetings are interesting and well attended and music is in charge of A. A. Johnson.

August Clinger left Saturday for Houston, Texas, where he will be employed as tent manager for a Chautauqua company. The company will tour California and Colorado the coming season.

WANT CHANGE IN LAW FOR TAX DISTRIBUTION

School Men Hold Conference in Columbus.

W. R. Heistand, county superintendent of schools, has returned from Columbus, where he attended a conference which recommended a change in the law providing for distribution of school funds.

According to the present system, Marion county raises approximately $111,600, by the one and eight-tenths mill levy, for school purposes. Of this amount $12,000 is paid to the state fund for aid of weak school districts and the remainder is returned to the county for distribution to the eighteen school districts, including the Marion city district.

Marion county's rural districts, on the basis of teachers' salaries, transportation and aggregate days of attendance, receive about $44,000 of this amount back, or some $17,600 less than is raised by these districts. The city district receives $55,000, or about $5,000 more than it pays into the fund originally.

At the Columbus conference, which was attended by representatives of six counties and a member of the state senate, it was pointed out that this same condition obtains in a number of counties throughout the state and in some of them the condition is just the reverse of that in Marion county, the city receiving less money than it raises for school purposes and the county more.

According to a Columbus dispatch over the Star's International News service leased wire, Robert J. Pennell is to be appointed late this afternoon or Tuesday morning as assistant to the state prohibition commissioner. The position pays $3,600 a year and traveling expenses.

R. J. PENNELL.

Mr. Pennell is chairman of the Marion County Republican Central committee and was endorsed for the position by both the central and executive Republican organizations of Marion county.

IN COMMON PLEAS

More Definite and Certain.

A motion to make the petition more definite and certain was sustained on the second and third grounds in the common pleas court today in the suit of W. H. Schaffner and others against the board of county commissioners. The motion to strike out certain parts of the petition was overruled and the plaintiff was given leave to file an amended petition at once.

The plaintiff is suing for $4,300 alleged damages and personal injuries resulting from an accident in which his automobile ran into a hole in the Green Camp pike.

Seek Court's Advice.

Christopher S. Lippincott, as executor of the last will and testament of Mary Ellen Virden, deceased, has filed in the common pleas court a petition asking the court to direct him in regard to the true construction of the will and as to his duties.

The petition, filed through Crissinger, Guthery & Strelitz, names William A. Virden and others as defendants. The plaintiff states he has funds on hand ready for distribution and that by reason of doubt as to the true construction of the terms of the will he can not safely proceed with the distribution.

Mrs. William Stone of Waldo, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Workum of Oak street.

Holding A Husband

BY ADELE GARRISON.

I pressed closer to the window pane, strained my face against the pane, in the effort to determine whether I had really seen some one beside old Sammy lurking in the grounds before me, or whether my over-trained nerves had played me a trick.

For a long minute I watched, and then I knew beyond all doubt there was a figure coming from the direction of the little lake and stream with the footbridge that lay at the foot of the garden. I could catch only the most elusive glimpse of it as it stole from tree to tree, cannily taking advantage of every shadow and infinitesimal gradation, nearing my home.

Old Sammy had been patrolling the front of the grounds, and a moment after I had first seen the figure of the intruder he had turned the corner of the other side of the house. That the intruder was ignorant of Sammy's presence as Sammy was of his, I was sure, and I wondered tensely what would happen when the old watchman and the intruder met.

Then with a sudden flaming realization that I could not wait for the end in mere speculation. He had an [illegible] more d[illegible] than an enemy, while no doubt the other man was armed [illegible] old Sammy's safety. With a purposeful clatter I threw up the window and spoke down and [illegible]

"An armed watchman is coming around the other side of the house. I should advise you to get out of here at once."

The moving figure came to a stop and stood for an instant motionless. Then the man evidently preferring a woman's voice from an upper-story window to an armed watchman on his own level, turned, and ran lightly toward the Durkee house, actually past my window, and on down the driveway into the street.

I had a fairly good glimpse of him as he was silhouetted for an instant against the light of the street lamp, for he cleverly changed his run to a walk just before he reached the light, and went out of the gate as if he were some member of the household dispatched upon some nocturnal errand.

I caught my breath in chagrin at my own alarm as the street light fell upon his figure. He was only a boy, after all, a slight agile figure, with a cap pulled low upon his head, and clothes which hung somewhat baggily upon him. The theory of young hoodlums being the disturbers of the night before was no doubt the right one.

A rush of feet behind me, and Lillian's hand upon my shoulder brought my eyes away from the window to her. As she bent toward me her face was like a white cameo etched against the duskiness of the room, while her eyes made me think of the glow which is left for a moment when a powerful light is dimmed.

"What has happened? Why are you here at this open window?" she demanded. "You called to someone, didn't you?"

I lowered the window before I answered, and drew the curtain, seeing as I did so—with an odd desire to laugh—the figure of old Sammy coming around my house again, his flashing light illuminating his own figure, but little else.

"There was a boy lurking in the grounds," I said, when I had turned on the switch of the light. Then I gave her a little peremptory push.

"Not another word," I declared emphatically, "until you have thrown on something over that thin night-dress. Mrs. Durkee left you a bath-robe, I know. Just as she did me. Get it on!"

"Haven't time," she retorted mutinously, then she jumped into my bed and pulled the covers up to her chin.

"There, grandma!" she mocked. "Now you may crawl in, too, if you like. But don't waste any more time. A boy, you say? How do you know? Begin at the beginning, and tell me what you've been doing, and what you saw."

I obeyed her, and saw her face grow sterner at each word of the narrative. When I told of having thrown up the window and calling to the boy, she turned on me savagely.

"If you don't value your life for yourself, or for the rest of us," she said, and her tone was almost a snarl, "it should think you'd think of your little son."

"Why! Why!" I stammered. "How was my life in danger?"

"How does anybody know what that dev—one of those devils of young hoodlums have in the back of their coke-crazed heads? They shoot first and think afterward, especially when they're in a panic, as this one must have been at your unexpected appearance."

"He wasn't very panic-stricken," I said. "He was evidently cool and deliberate, as he ran this way, thus evading old Sammy, and changed his run to a walk as he reached the light above the gate."

"That makes it all the worse," Lillian said cryptically. "Get into bed. I'm not going to leave you again tonight, and I warn you if you do any window stunts again I'll tie you to the mattress."

But long after she slept or feigned slumber I lay awake turning something she had said over in my mind.

"How does anybody know what that dev—" she had begun, then changed it quickly to, "one of those devils."

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE MAPLE SUGAR.

(BY HOWARD R. GARIS.)

[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

Once upon a time as Uncle Wiggily, the bunny rabbit gentleman, was walking through the woods with Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, Johnnie suddenly said:

"Why, it's raining!"

"And I haven't my umbrella!" cried Uncle Wiggily, holding up his pink, twinkling nose to see how hard the drops were falling. But none came down on his nose, and none on his ears, or tall silk hat.

"You must have made a mistake, Johnnie," said the rabbit gentleman. "I don't feel any rain."

"But a drop splashed on my tail," chattered the squirrel boy. "It came when we passed that maple tree."

Uncle Wiggily looked back at the maple tree, under which he and Johnnie had just passed. The wind had broken off one of the larger branches, and from the broken, jagged end of this branch something was dripping, like drops of rain.

"Oh, the tree is leaking or crying!" chattered the squirrel boy.

"No," said the bunny uncle. "That is the sap of the tree. It ought not to run out and be wasted, though. If we could catch it in a pail, we could boil it over a fire."

"What good would that do?" asked Johnnie.

"Why, sap from a maple tree, boiled down, makes maple syrup and maple sugar," answered Mr. Longears. "Every year, when spring comes, the sap begins to run up in the trees. It springs up, and that's why we call the time after winter 'Spring.' I suppose. But not all sap makes maple sugar—only that from trees like this.

"Come on, Johnnie!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "We'll go to my bungalow, get a pail and catch some sap. Then we'll make maple sugar!"

The little squirrel boy was anxious enough to do this, and soon he was helping Uncle Wiggily hang a tin pail on a lower tree branch beneath the one. Then the sap dripped and dropped into the pail instead of on the ground.

Johnnie sat down on a little bank of snow near the maple tree.

"What are you waiting for?" asked Uncle Wiggily, looking back after starting out of the woods toward his hollow stump bungalow.

"I'm waiting for the pail to fill with sap so we can boil it into maple sugar," Johnnie answered.

"Oh, my dear little squirrel chap!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "It will take two or three days to drip that pail full, a drop at a time. We'll come back later."

And when, two days after that, Uncle Wiggily and Johnnie again visited the maple tree the pail was filled with what seemed to be water. But it tasted slightly sweet and had a lovely flavor.

"Now we'll boil it and boil it, until it gets real thick, and then, when it cools it will be maple sugar," said Uncle Wiggily. He and Johnnie built a fire in the woods and hung the pail of maple tree sap over the blaze like a gipsy kettle. The sap boiled and boiled.

"I think it is thick enough now to make maple wax" said the bunny.

"What's that?" asked Johnnie.

"The maple sugar just before it becomes hard—it is like molasses taffy," explained Uncle Wiggily.

He dipped some of the hot, boiling sap out of the pail over the fire

The sap boiled and boiled.

with a big spoon and poured it on a clean place in the snow.

"When it is cool we'll eat it," said Uncle Wiggily to Johnnie. But just then the bad old Skillery Salery Alligator, with humps on his tail, came waddling out of the woods.

"Oh, ho! Oh, hum! I smell something good!" cried the 'gator. And before he could be stopped he began eating the maple wax on the snow. But he did not eat very much. For it was terribly hot and it was so sticky that, once he had closed his jaws on a bunch of the maple wax, the 'gator could not open his mouth again.

And, oh! You should have heard him gurgle, gargle and howl! He couldn't speak, because he couldn't open his mouth, but he lashed his tail from side to side and ran away to jump in a brook of ice water.

"That settles him," said Uncle Wiggily. Then, when the maple wax was cool, it wasn't sticky, and the bunny and Johnnie ate some and it was delicious! Then they made maple sugar candy and that was better yet, and they gave some to all their friends.

REDEX RESTORED AGED WOMAN TO HEALTH

Aged Woman Tells How She Recovered from Nervous Trouble and Physical Weakness.

Redex, the new herbal remedy, is made from the juices and extracts of medicinal plants brought up-to-date by modern science, and is one of the best remedies to be found for all ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood.

Redex is composed of ingredients recognized by physicians throughout the world for their medicinal value; it is compounded with exacting care by expert pharmacists, and is guaranteed to be absolutely free from narcotics or habit-producing drugs. Redex banishes constipation because it is mildly laxative, and removes the cause—stomach trouble. It ends pains in the stomach and gas belching because it drives away the catarrhal inflammation which has caused all the trouble. It stops headaches, dizziness, improves digestion, and makes away with kidney and liver trouble, because it puts the body in a healthy condition, and there is no longer cause for any disease.

Mrs. Eliza J. Layton, an old time resident of Coshocton, 74 years of age, and who lives at 125 S. Eighth St., is happy and grateful over her experience with Redex, the new Herbal Remedy. She says: "I have been weak and ailing for a long time; my appetite was poor and I was very nervous; at times I was scarcely strong enough to stand on my feet and get around. I have been taking Redex for about two weeks and it has helped me wonderfully. It has given me a splendid appetite—which I have lacked for a long time, and brought by strength back; it has helped my shattered nerves and has given me new life and ambition. Redex is a mighty fine medicine.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

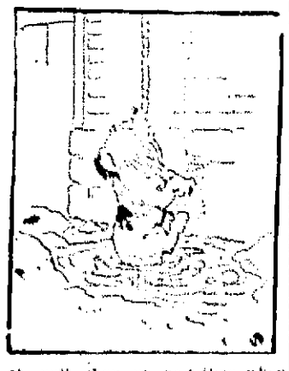
The world is covered with slush, and the ice on the pond is rotten, and when I let Jubilee down out of the window he set down in a mud puddle. A dog is not brite. When a dog is being let down by a rope in his teeth he ought to let his legs hang down, but it does not do any good to tell Jubilee that. He pulls them up, and then when he sets in a mud puddle you can see by the way he looks up at me he blames me.

I hate to have him look at me that way, but I don't blame him for that is the way I would look at him if he let me down in a mud puddle. I was playing cross-tag once and was chasing Youniss, and Jubilee thought he was playing, too, and he ran between my legs and I got my whole face and the front of me in the mud, but I did not look at him that way. I knew that he could not help it.

When school had let out we thought we would go over to see Miss Parmer because we have not been there as often as we used to, and she said to come in and she would show us something, so we took off our hats and went in and her canary has laid two eggs, and she is so proud of it that anyone would think she done it. I bet when they are hatched and she sees how little and nekked the birds are she will feel sorry for them.

My grandfather says that a cocoanut is the noblest egg that is laid. He says that it is a beautiful sight to see a mother bahboon making her nest in the jungle, and then when she has got it done she lays a armfull of cocoanuts in it and hatches them out setting on them all through the long winter to keep them warm. I do not think that is so. I always thought cocoanuts growed on trees.

But if I do not believe my grandfather it is his own fault because he has always been a liar. I hate it to have him tell a thing like that because it might be true but I do not dast to ast anyone about it be cause if it is not true they will laugh at me and think it is a joke on me, but how is a feller to know anything if he has got a liar in his family and don't dast to ast questions. I bet our teacher knows but I am not going to ast her. Mebby I will get a cocoanut and put it under one of Hopper's mother's hens, and if it hatches out I bet the hen will be suprised when she gets off and looks in the nest to see what she has got and a little bahboon grins right in her face.



He pulls them up, and then when he sets in a mud puddle you can see by the way he looks up at me he blames me.

They are not talking any more about sawing off Hopper's leg. I but it would work better to do a string around it up tight and after awhile it would drop off like a wart. Youniss and her mother come over after supper and we talked mostly about my ears which are getting better. Youniss's mother said it was a real cold night when they was froze. I know it. Me and my uncle went home with her and Youniss. My unkle says it is time a scandle was started in our neighborhood.

Charm of Motherhood

THERE are many homes once childless that now are blessed with healthy, happy children, because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored the mother to a healthy, normal physical condition.

The following letters give the experience of two young women and prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Chicago, Ill.—"I was always tired, my head always ached, and my back ached until I could hardly stand the pain. I doctored for years, and the doctor said nothing but an operation would help me, and that I could not have children. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took six bottles of it and it helped me wonderfully, and I now have a fine baby boy, thanks to what your medicine did for me in restoring my health. I can highly recommend the Compound to all women who suffer from female ills."—Mrs. Wm. Raiss, 304 Willow St., Chicago, Ill.

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a very nervous condition, was irregular, and could not have any children. I took doctor's medicine without success, and he advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon felt benefitted by its use, became regular, and now we have a fine baby girl after having been married nine years. I am always glad to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to my friends who suffer from such troubles."—Mrs. H. B. Held, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

Have Bread Filled With Raisins

For Flavor and for Health

A bread is made that's full of raisins, luscious nuggets of sun-cured California fruit, Nature's own confections. It's called Sun-Maid Raisin Bread. First-class bakers make it, and supply it to retailers, or you can bake it at home according to the recipe below.

Serve such bread because it's real raisin bread and because it's healthful.

Raisins are rich in natural iron content. Natural iron in the blood makes ruddy, rosy cheeks. Rosy cheeks make pretty women prettier.

One needs but little iron daily, but that need is vitally important. Eat raisins daily and be sure you're getting all the iron you need.

SUN-MAID RAISINS

Sun-Maid Raisin Bread is made with Sun-Maid Raisins, California's best.

Use these raisins for all home cooking purposes. In pies, cakes, puddings, salads, relish, etc.

Plump, tender, juicy raisins, made from the finest table grapes. Packed in California by latest improved sun-dried process. Clean, sweet, whole.

Three varieties: Sun-Maid Seeded (seeds removed); Sun-Maid Seedless (grown without seeds); Sun-Maid Clusters (on the stem). All dealers. Insist upon the Sun-Maid brand.
